

Day-to-Day Geography

Always write the date as Monday 16th November 2017

Always write the title and use Capital Letters.

Always write classwork or homework at the top of margin.

Always underline with a ruler all dates, titles and headings.

Always write in black or blue pen only.

Always draw in pencil.

Always use your best handwriting.

Always glue in your worksheets.

Aim:

To make a scrap book of your summer of geography

Ribblesdale
High School

A foundation for success
Since 1972

Geography is everywhere

You are surrounded by geography everyday and it affects everything that you do. Wherever you go, you will experience different PHYSICAL (natural) and HUMAN (man made) geographical features.

Over the summer, the Geography Department challenges you to make a scrap book of the geography you encounter over the summer.

Your scrap book should include the following: pictures of places of that you visit and descriptions of activities that you do. You could include maps that you have used, tickets that you have used to get into places or information leaflets that you pick up on your travels.

Your scrapbook can either be a physical object that you put together yourself or a virtual book that you create using a computer programme such as Microsoft Word or Publisher.

